European Vitamin D Association

Warsaw, APR 14th, 2017

The European Vitamin D Association (EVIDAS) is pleased to endorse the Mediterranean Journal of Rheumatology (MJR) as an academic reference for researchers and practicing rheumatologists. EVIDAS is an international scientific society focused on the disseminating the knowledge on significance of vitamin D for human health among health professionals and society. EVIDAS is aware on efforts done by Mediterranean Journal of Rheumatology to share recent evidence in rheumatology, so MJR is recommended among best journals for reading and publishing research and reviews focused on vitamin D in rheumatology.
